

Get Involved, Find Your Communities

There are plenty of programs, services, and events happening throughout the year, which aim to strengthen students' connection to the University, cultivate a sense of community, and empower students to be engaged and contributing leaders.

Student Organizations

UGA has well over 700 clubs and organizations that are free for students to join! Each semester, UGA holds an involvement fair on campus where you can meet and talk to members of different organizations. You can also access the full list of clubs and organizations online, along with their descriptions and contact information, through the UGA Involvement Network.

Find Your Communities

University Religious Life Association

The University Religious Life Association offers a variety of programs for encouragement, fellowship, spiritual formation, and personal support while you study at UGA.
